BNR renovation update

Oct. 2, 2018

• The architects indicated that a schematic design for the west wing expansion of the atrium would be available in a week.

• The construction company plans to wall off the west entrance to the BNR in early January before classes begin. Then the digging of the basement will begin around Jan. 22. Access to the auditorium and labs and offices in BNR will occur through the courtyard and east doors.

• The connection of the new basement under the west expansion to the old basement (near Trish and Ed’s lab) will begin in May. I’ll try to get more details on this plan at the next meeting.

• Parking in the red lot near the new Life Sciences Building will be available beginning Nov. 5.
