

The Watershed Health and Effectiveness Monitoring Unit at the Washington State Department of Ecology is adding 5- summer Environmental Technician positions and they have been posted to Careers.wa.gov. Here is a link to view the posting Watershed Health Monitoring ETech \(Environmental Technician\). If you have a background in stream biology, habitat and or water quality related work and are interested in working on rivers in the Puget Sound, please consider applying or forwarding this link to those you know that might be interested. The first review of applicants will be on April 19th.