

Position description ad – Instructor, Forest Ecosystems and Society Department, College of Forestry, Oregon State University.

The Department of Forest Ecosystems and Society at Oregon State University invites applications for a full-time (1.00 FTE), 12-month, Instructor position. This position will teach a variety of classes (primarily distance) and subjects in the Natural Resources (NR) Bachelor of Science (BS) degree program, such as NR 201 (Managing Natural Resources for the Future), NR 455 (Natural Resource Decision Making), FES 486 (Public Lands Policy & Management) and FES 485/585 (Consensus and Natural Resources). Teaching may include introductory graduate courses in the on-line professional Master of Natural Resources (MNR) or Sustainable Natural Resources (SNR) Graduate Certificate. The position will serve as mentor to students in the MNR and SNR programs.

To view the posting and apply, go to: <https://jobs.oregonstate.edu/> and search for posting # P04673UF. To ensure full consideration, applications must be received by September 15, 2021. Applications will continue to be accepted after the full consideration date, until a sufficient applicant pool has been achieved or the position is filled. The closing date is subject to change without notice to applicants.

OSU commits to inclusive excellence by advancing equity and diversity in all that we do. We are an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer, and particularly encourage applications from members of historically underrepresented racial/ethnic groups, women, individuals with disabilities, veterans, LGBTQ community members, and others who demonstrate the ability to help us achieve our vision of a diverse and inclusive community

Misty Magers

Administrative Manager

Forest Ecosystems and Society | Oregon State University

321 Richardson Hall | Corvallis, OR 97331 | Direct: 541. 737.1484 | Fax: 541.737.5814